DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

This application contains claims 1-5 drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in Paper No. 7. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP ' 821.01.

Applicant's election of Group II, claims 6-16, in Paper No. 7, filed January 13, 2003, is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP ' 818.03(a)).

This application contains claims 1-5 are drawn to an invention nonelected. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC ' 103

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 6-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. ' 103 as being unpatentable over G9400222.3 (PTO-1449, 1).

G9400222.3 in figure 1 disclose a cooling chamber with nozzle plate (10) and cooling plate (11). The nozzle plate (10) can be lowered onto the workpieces positioned in the cooling chamber (page 4, last paragraph). The nozzle plate (10) is placed at top of workpieces to make cooling gas flow in lengthwise direction and no rebounding flow, which read on laminar cooling. Cooling plate (11) are formed to a contour of workpiece loads such as a tunnel (page 4, second full paragraph of the translation). Cooling gas is regenerated by passing through gas channels (page 2, second full paragraph). When prior art compounds essentially "bracketing" the claimed compounds (here structure) in structural similarity are all known, one of ordinary skill in the art would clearly be motivated to make those claimed compounds in searching for new products in the expectation that compounds similar in structure will have similar properties. In re Gyurik, 596 F.2d 1012, 1018, 201 USPQ 552, 557 (CCPA 1979); See In re May, 574 F.2d 1082, 1094, 197 USPQ 601, 611 (CCPA 1978) and In re Hoch, 57 CCPA 1292, 1296, 428 F.2d 1341, 1344, 166 USPQ 406, 409 (1970).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed December 22, 2003 and April 21/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants argue that Wunning teaches away from G9400222.3. But, examiner disagrees because Figure 1 of G9400222.3 also uses cooling plate (11). Figure 2 as taught by G9400222.3 uses lateral nozzle plates (10) has the cooling gas flow rebouncing (page 6, first full paragraph). But, when the nozzle plate (10) is placed above the workpiece (4), the cooling gas would flow in lengthwise direction without rebouncing. Thus, when the nozzle plates are placed above the workpieces, the cooling gas flow is without rebouncing and reads on laminar flow.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

The above rejection relies on the reference(s) for all the teachings expressed in the text(s) of the references and/or one of ordinary skill in the metallurgical art would have reasonably understood or implied from the text(s) of the reference(s). To emphasize certain aspect(s) of the prior art, only specific portion(s) of the text(s) have been pointed out. Each reference as a whole should be reviewed in responding to the rejection, since other sections of the same reference and/or various combination of the cited references may be relied on in future rejection(s) in view of amendment(s).

Art Unit: 1742

All recited limitations in the instant claims have been met by the rejections as set forth above.

Applicant is reminded that when amendment and/or revision is required, applicant should therefore specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See 37 C.F.R. § 1.121.
